FOCUS ON... MARY AND MARTHA

We are told in Chapter 6 of Saint Mark's Gospel that Jesus and his disciples were rushed off their feet with all the activity they were engaged in and the attention that they were receiving. No wonder, then, that Jesus said to his friends, "Come away to a deserted place all by yourselves and rest awhile". Many were coming and going, we are told, and they had no leisure even to eat. It is indeed an important balance to keep – between activity and effort in the Lord's service and taking proper time out to regain our energy, both physically and spiritually. In fact, there is a charity based in South Devon called the "Society of Martha and Mary" which is committed to helping people to establish and maintain a sound balance between being actively engaged in our spiritual life and in resting up to refill and renew our spiritual batteries. Mary and Martha, according to the Gospel of Saint John, were two sisters living at Bethany together with their brother Lazarus. Evidently, Martha was the busy, active one who got things done. But Mary took time out to sit and listen to the Lord's teaching and was commended for it. But we do know that we need to be a bit of both Martha and Mary if anything is ever to be achieved. If a job needs doing, somebody does have to get on and do it. And if Martha had not been busy getting food ready, no-one would have eaten. So there is always work that needs doing but, at the same time, we do all need to be careful to protect our times of refreshment and spiritual recovery. We do need to re-charge our batteries on a regular basis; both as people and as followers of Jesus Christ, and not least in regard to our spiritual well-being. Of course, the most important component in the spiritual life is prayer. Prayer for God's help and strength in all of life's ups and downs. Prayer in the everyday things of life. Prayer when life throws big challenges at us. Prayer when we are overwhelmed with sorrow. Prayer when we are filled with joy.

Heavenly Father we thank you for listening to our prayers. At this time of Trinity, we thank you for your Son who walks with us every day, we thank you for the Holy Spirit who inspires us in our daily lives, and we thank you for your love, guidance and protection always. We pray that we may be aware of your loving presence, and that we may share that love with those who need it. We ask for world-wide peace and that aid may reach those who are suffering. With Blessings, peace and joy, Amen.
